presents the 19th

UVa Annual Conference of Liver Disease &
Gastroenterology

Saturday, March 2, 2024

A Live In-Person Meeting at the Boar's Head
Inn Resort in Charlottesville, Virginia

Targeted Audience:

Physicians • Nurses • Advanced Care Practitioners

Desired Outcomes

This conference is designed to provide general and gastroenterology physicians, physician assistants, nurse practitioners, and other health care providers the opportunity to learn about and discuss the advances in the diagnosis and treatment of liver and GI disease. At the completion of this program, participants will be able to:

- 1 Understand the newer techniques and when to apply in surgical management of colorectal cancer disorders
- 2 Identify and implement new techniques for the management of refractory GERD and hiatal hernias including pharmacological and endoscopic techniques
- 3 Recognize and apply the use of biofeedback in the treatment of anorectal disorders
- 4 Differentiate the current and future therapies for inflammatory bowel disease.
- 5 Compare and contrast the different colonoscopy preps available for patients.
- 6 Understand the treatment options for patients with acute alcoholic hepatitis and when to use.
- 7 Formulate a plan for the management of liver lesions found on abdominal imaging
- 8 Develop an algorithm for the use of PETH serum testing for patients with alcohol use disorder and liver transplant
